

IRON-JAWED ANGELS

Presented by:
McFarland M.E.A.N. Parents Society

Hillary Swank plays suffragette Alice Paul in this HBO movie about the final push for the constitutional amendment granting women the right to vote, passed 90 years ago on August 26, 1920. Come see the story of Alice Paul and her courageous contemporaries who faced imprisonment and torture to attain for women this right we too often take for granted. Purposely screened in October, in advance of the November elections, the M.E.A.N. Parents Society hopes to draw focus to our rights and responsibilities as citizens and voters.

Mothers and daughters, history buffs, political junkies and all interested parties are invited!

Thursday, October 21, 2010

6-8:30 PM

McFarland House Café

Showtime: 6:30 PM

No charge to attend, but seating is limited to the first 60 people
Desserts and beverages available to purchase: $3-6
Sorry, no meal service available

Do you have what it takes to be a
M.E.A.N. Parent?

For more information please call:
Jean Papalia—838-7675
Julie Bennett—838-0238
Sue Paulson—838-1228